

RESEARCH SEMINARS 2022/2023

MICHAELMAS TERM 2022

18 October

David Sneath, Director, MIASU, University of Cambridge

Special MIASU Research Seminar

25 October

Barbara Bodenhorn, Emeritus Fellow, Pembroke College, University of Cambridge

On knowledge, vectors of exclusion and climate change: a view from the Arctic

15 November

Said Reza Huseini, University of Cambridge

A Sixteenth Century Mongol Observation of Tibet: Mirza Haidar Dughlat and his Tarikh-i Rashidi

POSTPONED:

29 November

Charles Ramble

Deferring Environmental Responsibility? The Evolution of Tibetan Serpent-Spirits in a Buddhist Climate

LENT TERM 2023

24 January

Joanna Dolińska, University of Warsaw

Can the Mongolian society return to the 'pre-Covid normal'? Changes in the Mongolian society in the aftermath of the Covid-19 pandemic

7 February

Martin Saxer, Ludwig-Maximilians University, Munich

Places in Knots: Remoteness and Connectivity in the Himalayas and Beyond

20 February

Charles Ramble, EPHE – PSL University, CRCAO, Paris

Deferring Environmental Responsibility? The Evolution of Tibetan Serpent-Spirits in a Buddhist Climate

7 March

Orhon Myadar, University of Arizona

Nomadic Imaginaries and Performative Realities

EASTER TERM 2023

2 May

Ariell Ahearn (University of Oxford)

Rights to the 'Commons': Herders caught between privatisation and expropriation of public land in an extractivist state

16 May

Hildegard Diemberger (Pembroke College & MIASU Member, University of Cambridge)

The Unexpected in the 'Land In-between' (Limi, Western Nepal)

Anticipation and Contingency in a Changing Climate

30 May

Inna Leykin (University of Israel, MIASU Visiting Scholar)

'Caring like a state:' the politics of Russia's population problems

13 June

Nikolay Tsyrempilov (Nazarbayev University)

From Lamaism to Buddhism

The Rise of Modernity in the Mongolian Sangha of Russia, late 19th – early 20th c.